

The role of women changed irrevocably at the end of the Great War
The Peoples' Representation Act

The Act gave certain women the right to vote. In 1928 all women were given the right to vote

This seminal work argued that marriage should be an equal relationship and responsibility for sex and pregnancy was a shared one.

National Council for The Unmarried Mother & Her Child

This charity aimed to remove social stigma, provide safety and support to single women and their children. Today the charity is known as Gingerbread

Women artists who live in and around Gosport, or have strong links with the area will celebrate the changing world of women using a range of media, materials and textiles This art exhibition is dedicated to, and commemorates the 100th anniversary of events that changed the lives of British women. It is dedicated to the women, and men, who fought for freedom, equality and social justice in 1918, and also those who still campaign and fight today.

These brochure images are of the work of our contributing artists and demonstrate the diverse and rich talent of local women painters, photographers and textile and needlework artists. This exhibition will reflect the history, community and, often unnoticed, wonderful landscape of .....Gosport

The artists include

Chris Jenkins Gillian Ashby Vicki Matthews Kerry McPhail Susan Evans Clare Groves Maggie Cochran Tricia Ross Margaret Marks Ashleigh Rhys Maureen Coles

VAD Gosport 1918

The exhibition will be open on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons from 1-30 to 3-30 and on Saturday mornings from 10-00 till 2.00 throughout the month of September, and, until mid-October 2018.

Different artists will be available to welcome you on the open afternoons and Saturday mornings. Short films on how they work and the techniques they use will be on show.

The Artistic Director for the exhibition is Maggie McMurray and we are also indebted to Father Andy Davis and the volunteers of Holy Trinity Church Gosport for their support.
